Fishing Fleet Movements.

Capt. Samuel Colson of sch. Margaret reports speaking sch. Arbitrator on Bacallieu Bank recently, also saw the sch. George Parker about a month ago with 30,000 pounds of flatted halibut.

Capt. Joseph V. Casick of sch. Independence reports speaking sch. Oregon on Bacallieu Bank recently.

Sch. Gatherer arrived at Boston yesterday.

BIG BANK FARES.

Schs. Elector and Harry A. Nickerson Here Today.

Each Has Over 300,000 Pounds of Salt Codfish.

Sch. Elector, Capt. Orlando Vanamberg, arrived from Scattarie bank yesterday with a big fair 300,000 pounds of salt cod. Capt. Vanamberg is generally the first home with a big bank fare, and this season he is living up to the traditions. He reports a few of the fleet at Scattarie, some at Cape North and the rest scattered around at Quero bank and other spots. He reports that a few of the fleet have done better than last year while many have not fared as well as they did last season, the catch on the whole being less than last year at this time.

He reports very bad weather of late, which has no doubt affected the catch of many vessels.

A familiar face in a new command is Capt. Clayton Morrissey in the Boothbay schooner Harry A. Nickerson, which also arrived at this port this morning from Scattarie Bank with 300,000 pounds of salt cod and 3000 pounds of halibut. Capt. "Clate," as everybody calls him, is young, but his record as a hustler is hard to beat and this season finds him right on deck as usual.

Sch. Margaret, Capt. Samuel Colson, and sch. Independence, Capt. Joseph V. Casick, have good halibut fares from Bacallieu Bank.

Hake Sounds at Auction.

Sch. James R. Clark, of Beverly, which arrived at this port on Saturday, had 1000 pounds of hake sounds. The skipper put them up at auction and the Gloucester Oil and Grease Company secured them at 16 cents a pound. The bidding started at 8 cents.

C. A. Reed Prevents Break in Salt Mackerel Price.

BUYS FARE AT $10 PER BBL.

Steamer Alice M. Jacobs Brings Her Fare Here.

The salt mackerel market was treated to a surprise this morning. On Saturday offers of $9 per barrel for Cape Shore fish were made, but no sales were effected. This morning the arrivals had increased to 15 sail, all with fish, and the prospect of reaching to or above Saturday's offer did not seem too bright. Some of the skippers and firms were asking $9.50 per barrel and wondering if they would be lucky enough to get it.

Along about the middle of the forenoon the complexion of affairs changed. It became whispered around that two or three buyers were planning to capture all the trips at 9.50 per barrel. Whether this was so or not, remains to be seen.

When Charles A. Reed of Reed & Gimage wants a trip of anything, he generally gets it. He wanted a fare of mackerel. A. Ernest Whalen offered him the Kentucky's fine fare at $10 per barrel, and he bought it. This settled all the $9.50 calculations before one hardly knew it. It did not take long for buyers and producers to find out what Mr. Reed had paid. The captains then naturally looked for the same figure for their fares, and $9.50 was a memory. Joseph O. Procter, Jr., saw how things were going, and took the trips of sch. Navahoe, Rob Roy, and Talisman at the same figure, and then the rest of the trips went in a twinkling.

The fares of schs. Latona and Margie Smith went to George Perkins & Son, Percy Hall took the Kearsarge's fare, the trip of the Scythia went to Shute & Merchant and Wm. H. Jordan & Co. took the fares of schs. Grayling, Golden Hope and Constellation. Slade Gorton & Co. got the Smuggler's fare and the Andrews Co. got the fare of sch. Electric Flash and Frank Stanwood bought the trip of sch. Ralph L. Hall.

All sold for $10 per barrel, and Mr. Reed went back to East Gloucester in a happy frame of mind. He had secured a rip, which he wanted, and had prevented a break in the mackerel market.

The fare of sch. Alice M. Jacobs sold to John Nagle & Co. at 8 cents apiece.

A special to the TIMES gives the following seiners at Newport Saturday evening:

Sch. Angielena, 35 barrels fresh mackerel.
Sch. Mertle and Delmer, 75 barrels.
Sch. M. Madeleine, 30 barrels.
Sch. Leander F. Gould, 50 barrels.
Sch. Rebecca, 80 barrels.

As exclusively reported in Saturday's TIMES, the steamer Alice M. Jacobs, Capt. Solomon Jacobs, arrived at Boston Saturday afternoon with 14,000 fresh mackerel. As it was after 1 o'clock, she could not get her fare taken out, so came here, selling the trip to John Nagle & Co., taking out Saturday evening. Capt. Jacobs reports catching his fish 25 miles from the South Shoal lightship on Friday. There seemed to be some fish there. Quite a fleet was on them but only a few got fish.

A fleet of 30 netters were at New Bedford on Saturday.

The sloop E. A. Hooper of this port was high line of the fleet of drift netters off Provincetown Friday night, with 1300 mackerel. The new gasoline schooner Saladin of this port, arrived there Friday night from cruising south of the Cape, and reports prospects for the fishery south poor at this time. The schooner Nellie M. Snow arrived from the Cape Shore during the night with 35 barrels salt mackerel.
